VISITING NURSE | HOSPICE ATLANTA ANNOUNCES TWO NEW BOARD MEMBERS

A leading physician and an investment professional have joined Visiting Nurse | Hospice Atlanta's board of directors.

Matthew J. Schreiber, M.D., brings extensive strategic and operational vision to the board. He is also one of the organization's nine medical directors. He is currently interim chief medical officer for Piedmont Hospital. A hospitalist expert, he created a unique hospitalist unit at Piedmont, and has served on the boards of the Piedmont Clinic and the Piedmont Medical Care Corporation. He was recently elected as committee chair for the Georgia Hospital Association Committee of Care Transitions.

Stanley A. Sharp brings more than 25 years of investment experience to Visiting Nurse | Hospice Atlanta's board. He is first vice president of investments and senior portfolio manager at Merrill Lynch and Company. He currently serves as chairman of the Stewardship and Finance Committee at Briarlake Baptist Church and is chairman of the Annual Fund at Marist School of Atlanta.

Visiting Nurse | Hospice Atlanta was founded in 1948. It is a community-based organization dedicated to delivering compassionate, innovative and cost-effective home health and end-of-life care to residents of metro Atlanta. The organization is Georgia's largest nonprofit home healthcare and hospice provider. According to the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, Visiting Nurse | Hospice Atlanta has one of the lowest patient re-hospitalization rates in Georgia, a key indicator of quality.
